

Join a growing Pike-Perch Production Team at Gamst Aquakultur (in Denmark)

AquaPri ApS Gamst Aquakultur

Gamst Aquakultur, part of AquaPri, is a cutting-edge RAS (recirculating aquaculture system) facility near Vejen, specializing in the production of freshwater pike-perch for human consumption. Built in 2016, the facility is in rapid development and poised for significant growth. As we expand our operations, we are strengthening our production team — and you could be the next key player.

We're Hiring: Production Operator

Do you have a passion for aquaculture and a drive to make a difference in a growing company?

We are seeking a skilled and motivated Production Operator to join our team in a full-time role.

Your Responsibilities

- Daily care: Feeding and monitoring fish stocks
- Water quality: Daily analyses and follow-up on RAS parameters
- Operational support: Sorting and packing fish
- Documentation: Record-keeping and reporting
- Technical: Inspection and maintenance of equipment (sensors, nets, etc.)
- Data collection, analysis, and registration of production inputs and outputs in our Aqua management system
- Supervision: Participating in a watch rotation approximately every 4/6 weeks
- Strategic input: Involvement in production planning, upcoming expansion phases, process and production practices improvements

What We're Looking For

- Minimum 3 years of experience in aquaculture or related fields
- Educational background in biology, aquaculture, or animal science
